Python Tasks – Day5

1. What is difference between shallow copy and deep copy?
2. You want to create a library management application, you need to store data about books, students in your program, how will you store data inside python using list? Create some lists with fake data to store information about library management.
3. This chapter introduced assignment statements, like spam = 10. What is the difference between an expression and a statement?
4. Define following
   a. Atomic data types / Primary data types
   b. Secondary data type / User Defined Data Type
5. What is UDF?